Learning Management System(LMS)

The Learning Management System (LMS) is an effective tool for organizing and presenting curriculum materials, tracking student academic progress, and providing information about faculty members. All of the faculty members use cutting-edge technologies and teaching methods that are supported by information and communication technology (ICT) in the classroom.

At the beginning of the academic year, all disciplines' academic books containing academic calendars, lesson plans, lab manuals, and question banks are made available. As a result, students are completely aware of all of their academic requirements and can plan for and adhere to them. The use of multi-media teaching tools such LCD projectors in classrooms and libraries with always-on internet-connected computers, laptops, etc. Power point presentations are frequently used in our institute to facilitate and improve students' conceptual learning. Institute Library has SyNchRonik Software for issuing books. Faculty members create internal assessment recordings and keep track of students' progress during all phases of learning experiences.
